TO THE TIMES ONLY.

Winnipeg Market Destroyed by Fire—Work on Portage Extension Stopped.

Re-Construction of the Ontario Cabinet—The Winter Mail Service to Halifax.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—The City Market was destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock this morning. The building and contents will be almost a total loss. Value $20,000, partly insured. All the butchers who had stalls in the building lose everything. Supt. Marshall and family had a narrow escape for their lives.

Work on the Portage extension railway has been suspended by the government owing to the opposition of the C. P. R. Attorney General Martin leaves for Ottawa to argue the crossing case before the Supreme Court.

The Royal commission to investigate the charges against Premier Greenway has partially fallen through, the newspapers declining to give evidence unless the scope of the commission was enlarged. Judge Killan said he would report that the charges had not been proven. The Legislature spent yesterday afternoon in discussing the address and reply to the speech to the throne. Col. Clough made the opening speech and was followed by Greenway, Norquay and Sifton.

Fifty through passengers arrived on yesterday's train from St. Paul for Pacific coast points.

H. Hughes, formerly a merchant of Brandon, has absconded leaving many creditors.

The Brandon assizes opened yesterday. There are two murder cases on the docket. It is thought Webb, who killed his wife, will swing.

Gibson, of Hamilton, will be the provincial secretary of the reconstructed cabinet.

Ottawa, Nov. 14—The contract for the construction of the Sault Ste Marie canal has been awarded to Hugh Ryan and brother, of Toronto and Sturgeon Falls, the price being $1,200,000. M. J. Haney & Co. are connected with Ryan in the contract.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

Church Affairs Generally—Schools, Police Court, Railways, Etc.

From our own Correspondent.]

Vancouver, Nov. 12—A consecration meeting for young men was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms Sunday morning, preparatory to holding a week's evangelistic services, which is arranged to be done. One thousand dodgers were distributed during the day, and in the afternoon the hall was filled with young men. The meeting was opened with a ten minutes song service, led by the Glee Society, under the management of Mr. David Evans. Meetings will be held every evening this week except Thursday, when meetings will be held in all the churches. The subjects chosen for expostulation are: Curions, Serious, Saved, Monday; Drifting, Tuesday; Dwellers in Darkness, Wednesday; A Wise Merchant, Friday; Not Afraid to Stand Alone, Saturday.

A meeting of the congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church took place this evening at which the advisability of submitting a call to a pastor received considerable discussion.

The ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church purpose giving a concert in behalf of the city's funds on Wednesday, the 21st inst.

The four congregations, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Congregational, will unite in a Thanksgiving service in the Wilson Hall on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

Sunday evening Mr. Rasure, the cowboy evangelist, addressed the meeting at the Salvation Army barracks.

On Thursday evening last the sloop Annie, owned by one Anderson, arrived here with a cargo of fifty boxes of apples from Semiahmoo Bay, Washington Territory. Without reporting his arrival to the customs house, Mr. Anderson proceeded to negotiate with the fruit dealers for the sale of his freight. Saturday afternoon he affected a sale and was to unload the sloop while the dealer went to the custom house to clear the fruit. But on arriving at the customs he was informed that the regulations had been violated and that the sloop and its contents must be seized. Accordingly an officer was dispatched to the city wharf and the sloop and fruit taken in charge. Mr. Anderson claims that he was ignorant of the customs regulations. It is claimed that he did make application at the customs on Saturday, but was informed that he had delayed too long.

The new school in the west end was opened with due ceremony this morning and three fair mistresses placed in charge. Miss M. Hartney, principal, had 30 pupils in attendance; Miss Jameson, first assistant, 43, and Miss Harding, second assistant, 49. Mr. Braw, chairman of the board of trustees, addressed the pupils and teachers and spoke in laudatory terms of the new edifice and admonished the pupils to be obedient to their teachers and earnest and diligent in their work.

To-day the second woman of Vancouver has distinguished herself for her bravery by capturing a thievish Chinaman who had carried away two $5 bills, which had been placed on the table a few minutes before John called for the washee. Shortly after he left the lady missed the money and rushing to the door caught sight of John's pigtail emerging from another house further up the street. Before he was aware of danger he found himself in the grasp of an infuriated female, who hustled him, despite his protestations, to the residence of Sargeant McLaren, who took him in custody and on searching him found the money which the wily thief ultimately confessed had got mixed up with the washee by mistake.

Mount Pleasant school was also opened by Miss McDougall yesterday with an attendance of 42 pupils and places spoken for 70. Notwithstanding the increased accommodations by the opening of the new schools there is no apparent diminution in the classes at the east end, but now that the teaching staff in that division has been lessened by one the result will be a greater number of pupils to each teacher remaining. It is evident that one if not more teachers will be required by the first of the year. It is an injustice to the teachers as well as to the scholars to crowd ninety or more scholars into one room, and that of mixed classes, and expect anything like a reasonable amount of progress throughout the term.

In the police court to-day Patrick Kane was charged with assault and an attempt to rob. Decision reserved.

Nov. 13—Mr. C. Parry, head of the staff of the Northern Pacific R. R. engineers was in the city to-day, and has started to run a line between Vancouver and New Westminster, where they purpose to connect with the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railway. It is reported that the property of D. Chisholm, M. P., in subdivision 183 of this city has been bonded to the promoters of the scheme, in consequence of which much property in the eastern locality has been withdrawn from the market.

Our city band which, under the management of Mr. Reynolds, has risen to be a most creditable one indeed, does not receive that support from the citizens which their efforts merit. They are constantly at expense for music, rooms, instruments, fixings, etc., and are expected to give free concerts occasionally, and yet it seems that many would rather throw their quarters into the hat of the itinerant musician than a dime to our own boys whom we have with us always, who spend their money here and who will play for us when the others are gone. It is too bad that the band, so noble and inspiring an acquisition to the town, should be so illiberally supported as what it is.

The revenue cutter Sir James Douglas arrived in this harbor about three o'clock yesterday afternoon. The steamship Abyssinia is expected to sail this afternoon for Hongkong.

WHITECHAPEL BUTCHERIES.

Possible Clue to the Murderer—Two Witnesses Describe Him.

London, Nov. 13—Hopes of the police catching the Whitechapel murderer were raised to day to a point of buoyancy, in consequence of the testimony at the Kelly inquest of George Hutchison, a groom, who had known the victim for some years, and who saw her, with a male companion shortly before 2 o'clock on the morning of the murder. Hutchinson testified that he saw a well-dressed man with a Jewish cast of countenance accost the woman on the street at the hour mentioned on Friday morning, and the circumstance of his acquaintance with her induced him to follow the pair as they walked together. He looked straight into the man's face as he turned to accompany the woman, and followed them to Miller Court out of mere curiosity. He had no thought of the previous murders, and certainly no suspicion that the man contemplated violence, since his conspicuous manifestations of affection for his companion as they walked along formed a large part of the incentive to keep them in sight. After the couple entered the house, Hutchinson heard sounds of merriment in the girl's room, and remained at the entrance to the court for fully three-quarters of an hour. About three o'clock the sounds ceased and he walked into the court, but finding that the light in the room had been extinguished he went home.

Popular excitement over the murders received an additional impetus to-day by finding a woman's body floating in the Thames. The body was well-dressed, and the police are uncertain whether to account for the woman's death by murder or suicide. There is yet absolutely no clue. The face of the woman Kelly, when her body was found, resembled a bloody ball. The nose, ears and cheeks were missing, but the eyes had not been touched. Surgeons stitched the face together as best they could, but it was found almost impossible to identify the woman from such of the features as were sewn together.

IN SEARCH OF TRUTH.

The Parnell Commission—A Moonlighter And Not Ashamed of It.

London, Nov. 13—In the proceedings of the Parnell commission to-day, Presiding Justice Hannen said the court had decided to admit all of the Times' documents, even those papers which the solicitors had thought to be spurious, in order to assist them in their search for truth. Sir Charles Russell stated to the court that he had received menacing letters, in consequence of his connection with the proceedings before the commission. Justice Hannen replied that he also had received threatening letters, as possibly had other persons interested in the case. The examination of witnesses was then resumed, Edward Flannagan testifying that he was present at meetings held in Pittsburgh and New York. The late Stephen J. Meany presided and collected funds for the purpose of buying firearms for use in Ireland. James Mannion deposed that both Fenians and Leagues had taken part in outrages and moonlighting. All of the moonlighters he knew were members of the league. Peter Faherty, of Galway, testified he was not ashamed to confess he had often engaged in moonlighting. Moreover, he said he was ready to perform the same duty again.

—If you wish to insure your life select the Citizens' Insurance Company, as then your widow, however young and inexperienced, is sure to get the money without trouble. Mrs. Blackett, of Comox, whose late lamented husband was insured in the Citizens' for $3000, went to the Bank of British Columbia with the draft and it was paid immediately on presentation at the Company's office at Montreal. A Life Policy in the Citizens' is so much cash money laid by against the death of the bread winner. Victoria office, 50 Langley street.

CHURCHILL ON EXTRAVAGANCE.

London, Nov. 14—In the Commons last evening in a debate on the estimates for the superior court of judicialture, Jennings, Conservative, moved to reduce the appropriation by a considerable sum. Lord Randolph Churchill approved of the proposed reduction. He said the money that was squandered on court officials was a public scandal and a national disgrace, amounting to malversation of public money on a large scale. The new department of justice recently added to the machinery consists of nothing but lawyers. It was absolute bondage on the taxpayers. Attorney-General Webster deprecated Churchill's excessive criticism. The motion was rejected.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

A Railway Meeting Begets Personalities—Opening of Assizes.

Special to THE TIMES.]

New Westminster, Nov. 14—In response to a call from the Mayor, a large number of citizens assembled at the Hyack Hall last evening to discuss matters in connection with the Southern railway. His Worship, on being called to the chair, stated that although he had been requested by a number of citizens to call the meeting, he scarcely understood the purport of it. Mr. Lord then moved a resolution condemning the conduct of the Mayor and Aldermen with reference to the Southern Railway debentures. A discussion then arose and personalties and imputations were freely indulged in, Senator McInnis, Mr. Bole, Mr. Lord and Dr. Kent being the principal speakers. After a stormy meeting, an amendment expressing confidence in the Mayor and Council was carried with an overwhelming majority.

The Assizes opened this morning. Hon. Mr. Justice McCreight took the bench at 11 o'clock. After the Queen's proclamation was read the name of the grand and petit juors were called. The grand jury being sworn, chose Mr. Sinclair for foreman. His Lordship in charging the grand jury said there were seven cases to be brought before them, three of which were on capital charges. The Judge at considerable length pointed out the salient feature of the various cases. At the time the report left the jury returned a true bill against Frank Donohue for forgery; and a true bill against Johnie, an Indian for maliciously wounding. The case of Johnie was then called and the prisoner pleaded guilty. Judgment was reserved. The case of Donohue is going on now.

THE TEMPERANCE ROSTRUM.

Col. Woodford on Victoria—Liquor Men Invited To-night.

The evening lectures of Col. Woodford which are being held in the Pandora street Methodist Church are largely attended and seem to be increasing each evening. During the course of his remarks last evening the lecturer animadverted somewhat severely upon this city. He stated that the vices carried on openly in Victoria were equal to the worst days of Leadville, Colorado. He had been in most of the cities of the United States and had to say of this city that it was worse, for its open sins, than any of them. "In the police court yesterday," said he, "a young man was charged with being an inmate of a house of ill-repute; yet those houses of ill-repute are as open to the public as this meeting is. If it is a crime to be in them, why are they not suppressed by your administration of justice?" The speaker referred to one of the streets through which the congregation of the Pandora street Methodist church had to pass on their way to the services and asked if it was not a shame that such a thing should exist. It was a disgrace to a free people and to the flag under which we lived. He did not in any way hold the press responsible for this state of things. The press was simply the public. The speaker closed by inviting every one in the liquor business to attend this evening, when he would speak to them on the subject and call "a spade a spade." Between fifty and sixty went forward before the close of the meeting and signed the pledge.

ARRIVAL OF THE THETIS.

Remains of the Late Archbishop on Board—Funeral on Friday.

The United States war ship Thetis arrived in Esquimalt Harbor this morning at 7 o'clock and came to anchor. About 10 o'clock Father Van Nevel, Father Mandart and Messrs. Fee and Hayward drove down and went on board to make arrangements for taking the remains of the late Archbiscop on shore. The metal casket containing the remains of the much loved and lamented prelate was found on the quarter deck. On it rested a wreath of flowers placed there by Mrs. Healy, of Sitka; also a a rude cross, hewn out of solid timber, which had been erected by Father Tossi at the spot where the body was buried for a time at St. Michaels. Judge Johnson, who came down as the guest of Commander Emory, brought all the late Archbishop's personal effects including his ring, cross and diary. The arrangements for taking the body on shore and for the funeral are in the following order: At 9 o'clock a. m., to-morrow the clergy and committee will leave the palace and proceed to Esquimalt where the captain's steam launch will take them on board the Thetis. The captain will send the remains on shore when they will be placed in a hearse and conveyed to the archiepiscopal palace. At 7:30 p.m., to-morrow solemn vespers and matins of the dead will be chanted at the Cathedral. On Friday morning at 9 a.m., the funeral procession will leave the palace for the cathedral by way of Yates, Douglas and View streets. Archbishop Gross will officiate and Bishop Blondell will preach. At the conclusion of the services the remains will be placed in the vault, in the Cathedral, beside the remains of the late Father Jonkeau.

BREASTING THE WAVES.

The Cariboo Fly Steams in from the North.

The steamer Cariboo Fly steamed into the harbor at 3 o'clock this afternoon in charge of Capt. Meyer. After getting off the rocks she proceeded to Skeena where she took on board the following passengers: R. Cunningham, John Cunningham, Jr., Andrew Olsen, wife and two children, Samuel Sea and nine Indians. As freight 219 barrels of salmon, seven packages of furs, three cases household goods for W. Poole, and one case of curios for H. J. Salmon. The Fly left Skeena last Saturday evening at 4 o'clock, thus making the trip down in a little less that five days, out of that having been detained about 24 hours. She came in charge of the mate, Mr. Roberts, as far as Alert Bay, where she was met by Capt. Meyer and Purser Dickinson, who returned on her. One of the Indian passengers fell down the after hatch last night and broke his leg.

The cargo which the Fly had on board when she was ashore has been taken back to Aberdeen where the tins will be repacked.

Thanksgiving Day.

To-morrow will be Thanksgiving Day, and as a matter of course there will be a general cessation of business, in order that every man and boy who owns a gun can go out into the country and those who have none may go to church. In accordance with the usual custom there will be no issue of THE TIMES to-morrow evening.

CARIBOO ELECTION.

Nominations took place in Barkerville on Friday to fill the vacancy in the Local House caused by the resignation of ROBERT MCLEESE. J. B. NASON, of Barkerville, and A. BARLOW, of Quesnelle, were nominated. Polling will take place on the 26th instant.

THANKSGIVING.

To-morrow will be observed as a day of general thanksgiving throughout the broad Dominion of Canada. There are a great many things for which the people of the Dominion at large have to be thankful in the past season—a most bountiful harvest, an increase of our trade and commerce, the opening up of industries to develop the natural resources of the country, the peace, happiness and contentment which pervades this, the brightest gem in the richest Imperial diadem, ever worn by earthly sovereign. It is true that that peace for a time was disturbed by the threatenings of our neighbors, but our people met them with a calmness and dignity worthy of the proud name they bear, and showed to the world that right was not to be put down by braggadocio. These teachings failed in effect, and tended to consolidate all classes and conditions in closer bonds of fellowship and citizenship. In the province of British Columbia we have every reason to be thankful for the blessings showered upon us by an all bountiful Providence. We have had our little war cloud, which at one time threatened to plunge us into strife with the aboriginal inhabitants of the northern portion of the province, caused by almost criminal incompetency on the part of those who administer the government of the country. But a serious disturbance was happily averted. Our mines and fisheries have been developed beyond any previous season in our short history; projects for further development have been set on foot which indicate a bright future for our country. In the city of Victoria we have made long strides towards attaining the rank of a metropolis in trade, manufactures, buildings and other improvements. Were the province only cleansed of the moral corruption that prevails in high places in the administration of dominion and provincial affairs, as a people we would have even greater reason for thankfulness; but that day is hastening on. In the meantime let us be grateful for the mercies we now enjoy.

PHASES OF TRADE.

The late depression in trade which affected the commercial world, and called for the issue of an Imperial Royal Commission to enquire into the cause in the United Kingdom, failed, in the opinion of many, to be explained away by the economists. We were told by some that the cause was to be laid at the door of over production, by some to over competition, and by others to the rapid and increased means of modern communication. Statistical returns show that there was no unprecedented depression in trade, about as much being bought and sold as formerly, but prices depreciated, and as a consequence the profits were much less. Money was plentiful and cheap, consequently nations rushed into commerce, and the competition of customers sent prices down. Many British industries were forced either to stop work or be carried on at a loss. The wage-earners did not suffer in proportion to the profit-makers. Trade has now taken a turn. The immense cheapness of everything naturally increased the consumption. The consequence was that prices have also gradually increased. The producers, taking warning of the past, have introduced every kind of labor-saving machinery and economy of production, and do not look for very high profits. Everything has, as it were, been revolutionized. The motto now is, small profits and quick returns. Small firms, in the producing line, are nearly a thing of the past. The only remedy is to be found in combinations to which they have resorted, in order to economize the cost of production and distribution. It is said that they do not combine for greed, or monopoly, but in sheer self-defence, and the smaller firms will be compelled from force of circumstances to join the "combine." Producers will not fight their workmen; they have had many lessons in the strikes; but they seek by combination to reduce the number of clerks, agents, commission men, etc. They seek also to do away with the middleman, or wholesale merchants, and deal directly with the consumer. It is not improbable that we may yet see in Victoria an extension of the system against these distributors, at whom the "combines" direct their attack. Co-operative stores in other lands showed the way, and the "combined" producers are seeking the same means to reach their consumers direct. Against the claim that they are combined in sheer self defense, on the other hand, we have the effect of these "trusts" as seen in the "copper syndicate," which states in their prospectus that they "hope to fix the price of copper for the next twelve years. The price is beginning to be already felt in the shipbuilding industry. The American lead syndicate succeeded in driving up the price of that metal. The great salt trust has already doubled the price of salt at the pit's mouth. The Chicago wheat ring keeps wheat above $1 a bushel. Such are the two sides of the present state of trade, and the great question is if the system which has assisted in building up the wealth and independence of the great middle classes, the wealthy and independent merchant trader, was not better suited to meet all the requirement of trade than the new fangled ideas which produce instead an unnatural activity, and an endless number of subordinates, who are, in fact, salaried salesmen of all kinds. We are of opinion, taking everything into consideration, that the old system is preferable.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

Mrs. Josephine Butler writes:—"I have suffered long in silence for the woes of the Irish people, and concerning the state of mind of some good Christians who applaud acts which their Master would have condemned. I can no longer hold my peace. I am not a strong political partizan. I have always been ready to feel, but with our political friends as well as opponents when I thought them unjust. But as a woman and a Christian I protest with all my might against the men who dare to speak fair words of our Saviour Christ and of His stern and Holy Law while they are ruling a sister country in the spirit of heathen tyrants."

TRUSTEE BOARD.

Resignation of Trustee Ferguson—Attendance for October.

The Board of School Trustees held their regular meeting last night. Present, Trustees Hayward, Heisterman, Wolfenden and Morrison. A communication from the Superintendent of Education was read informing the Board that an increase of salary was granted the janitor; also that no funds had been provided for planting shade trees.

Trustee Heisterman moved that the sum of $20 be taken from the funds for the purchase of shade trees. Seconded by Trustee Wolfenden and carried.

RESIGNATION.

The following letter was received from Trustee Ferguson:

DEAR SIR,—I have not left the city as Trustee Heisterman told you at the last meeting of the School Board. I was at the time obtaining surgical treatment in Portland, but neglected to apprise Mr. Heisterman previous to my departure. I find my health such that it will be impossible for me to attend the meetings of the board at night, and as I will probably be removing from the province permanently as soon as I have recovered a measure of good health, I think it is better to resign my position on the Board, which I do. Wishing you and your associates all possible success in your labors, I am,

Yours truly, JNO. B. FERGUSON.

Trustee Heisterman said the newspapers did not report his remarks correctly. He did not say that Mr. Ferguson left the country, but suggested that inquiries be made to ascertain whether Mr. Ferguson intended to return.

The resignation was accepted and the Secretary instructed to take the necessary steps to hold an election to fill the vacancy in the Board caused by Trustee Ferguson's resignation.

Miss Sarah Kermode applied for a position as teacher. Laid on the table.

Accounts amounting to $165.50 were read and referred to the Finance Committee.

The attendance at the public schools for the month of October was 1157. Average daily attendance 98.75, a slight falling off from the preceding month.

Secretary Wolfenden said he had been requested by the principal of the girls school to call attention to the necessity of more seating room in a large room for the purpose of bringing the children together for exercises.

The chairman said it would be cheaper to provide benches and the matter was left in the hands of the Secretary.

Secretary Wolfenden said he interviewed the Surveyor General regarding filters for the schools, a residence for the janitor and also on the question of heating the schools.

Trustee Heisterman called attention to the sliding scale charged by city newspapers for advertising. He could see no reason why the Colonist charged more than THE TIMES for similar advertisements.

Secretary Wolfenden said the rates were reasonable.

The Board then adjourned.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

The Late Judicial Appointments Give Very General Satisfaction.

A Cabinet Minister Lost, Strayed or Stolen—Political Rumors.

From our own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Nov. 5—The appointment of Hon. Mr. Patterson to a seat on the Supreme Court bench, and Mr. James McLennan, Q. C., to take the place of Mr. Patterson in the Court of Appeal for Ontario, give general satisfaction to the public. It will do very much to restore the confidence of the people in Sir John Macdonald's selections to the judiciary of the country. In the past he had the reputation of making such appointments on their merit and irrespective of political leanings. In more recent years he departed from this custom and it is now pleasing to see his return to a wise practice. Mr. Patterson is a Reformer, but took no active part in politics. As for Mr. McLennan, he represented East Victoria in the Dominion Parliament, having twice defeated Mr. Hector Cameron. He is President of the Toronto Globe Printing Company, an eminent lawyer, and will in every way adorn the position to which he has been elevated. The only fault with the appointments is that they ought to have been made long ago. Litigation, especially in the Supreme Court, has been greatly delayed owing to an insufficient of judges.

POLITICAL WORLD.

In political affairs the rumor is current that Sir John Macdonald will replace Lord Sackville at Washington and Sir Hector Langevin will be sent to London, England, in room of Sir Charles Tupper, who will come to Canada to lead the Conservative party. But it is merely a rumor and I am afraid no such good luck is in store for Canadians. It would be eminently proper that a Canadian should be appointed British Minister at Washington, but United States people would not agree to such an appointment. As for Sir Hector Langevin going to London, the rumor no doubt arises from the wish of the Chapleaulites to see their bitter opponent removed from the Canadian Cabinet, where his presence is so objectionable to them. The old feud that existed between Mr. Chapleau and Sir Charles has been wiped out and the former would like to act as the latter's lieutenant in the next political contest. Again Mr. Chapleau is the real leader of the French Canadians, while Sir Hector is the nominal head. This is getting more apparent every day. At any rate before the next general election comes round there will be some important changes in the Government, as Sir John Macdonald will not likely again enter the bustle of a political campaign. Indeed, his address to the Kingston electors was to return him for the last time. Whoever will fill his shoes will have no easy task to handle a party where so many elements of discord and rancor exist.

A CABINET MINISTER LOST.

Some time ago the Government newspapers published that Hon. John Costigan left for British Columbia. That was when the phosphate lands scandal was published. He disappeared from Ottawa, but as no news of his reaching Winnipeg or any of the principal points between here and Victoria, has been received, the supposition is that he has gone elsewhere, probably to allow the scandal in question to die out. No one seems to know his whereabouts, but the business of the country goes on all the same. Scrabble.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

A BISHOP IN LONDON.

A Farewell Festival at Which a Number of Canadians Met.

A very large number of ladies and gentlemen connected with, or interested in, Canada, were present at the invitation of the Rt. Rev. A. W. Sillitoe, Bishop of New Westminster, and Mrs. Sillitoe, at Prince's Hall on Tuesday evening. The occasion was a kind of valedictory festival to bid farewell to the Bishop. His Lordship has been staying in England since the Pan-Anglican Conference at Lambeth, and at the conclusion of the gathering on Tuesday many and hearty were the good wishes showered upon him by the various friends he has made during his visit. Naturally clergymen were especially prominent among the company, doubtless interested in the ministrations of their brethren in the far west. Among others present were Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner, Sir Francis de Winton, the Right Rev. Bishop Jenner, the Right Rev. Bishop of Columbia, Mr. H. C. Beeton, Mr. J. G. Colmer, C. M. G., Mr. J. S. O'Halloran, Mr. B. Pennell, and Dr. Rae. Quite an extensive programme of songs and recitations was provided, interspersed with speeches, and concluded by a lecture, with lime-light lantern illustrations by His Lordship the Bishop of New Westminster.

The first speaker was Sir Charles Tupper, who while deprecating any intention of making a speech, said he could not resist the request of the Bishop to say a few words regarding the country which had the good fortune to be placed under his Lordship's moral jurisdiction. About thirty-two years ago, said Sir Charles, Sir Edward Balwer Lytton—the late Lord Lytton—then Secretary of State for the Colonies, in introducing a bill in the House of Commons changing the boundaries of New Celadonia, which was then the name of British Columbia, ventured to say that the child was then born who would live to see a great interoceanic railway extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, along which would spring up thriving towns and settlements. Most of the members of the House of Commons who heard that prediction regarded it probably as the romantic vision of a brilliant novelist rather than a statement of a fact sentually to be realised. But many who heard the statement, to say nothing of those who were children at the time, had lived to see it realised, and more than realised. Not only had towns and settlements sprung up during that time, but in a few months—in a single night, as it were—the terminal town of that railway had increased its population from some 500 to no less than 8,000. And when it was remembered that but twenty one years have elapsed since the federation of British North America, and when the progress of Canada during that brief space of time was remembered, it was not difficult to realise what the near future must bring forth in regard to every portion of Canada, and in regard to British Columbia in particular. From personal knowledge he could say that the climate of British Columbia was not to be exceeded in any quarter of the globe. A single fact would illustrate the enormous development of recent years. As Minister of Railways, said sir Charles, the last cargo of rails despatched from England for the construction of the last portion of the Canadian Pacific Railway occupied no less than seven months in transit; while to-day, instead of seven months, it was possible, by the most commodious mode of traveling, to reach through British territory, under the British flag, the same point in fourteen days. (Cheers.)

After more music, His Lordship the Bishop of Columbia addressed the meeting and earnestly appealed for funds in order to carry on the church work in British Columbia. In 1859, said his Lordship, British Columbia possessed but one bishopric. To-day there were three—those of New Westminster, Caledonia, and Columbia. Redeemed as the new settlements were from the prairies, there was no provision of a spiritual kind whatever for the inhabitants who flowed in. As a rule settlers were anxious to be supplied with the ministrations of the church, but the trouble was to provide the means. The men, the laborers, were ready, but the difficulty was to support them. The people themselves, settled in a new country, with all they could do to support themselves, could do little for their churches. Others came out with very exalted ideas as to the powers and purses of bishops, apparently basing their opinions upon their experience of English bishops. There were many regions of British Columbia quite untouched by the church—the Kootenay district, for instance, of vast extent, and likely in the future to become very important. In time there would probably be at least twenty churches in it. At present there was not one, the inhabitants depending upon wandering clergymen visiting them perhaps once a month. It was sometimes said that if the towns grew up with such rapidity as they did, surely they could support their churches. That was true; the towns could and did support their own churches, and funds were never needed for them. It was for the outlying districts that the funds were asked. (Hear, hear.)

Sir Francis de Winton, who was the next speaker, dwelt briefly but interestingly upon his experiences in British Columbia, describing his reminiscences of the province as among the most precious recollections of a life spent in many climes. The geographical position of British Columbia, he said, was such that in the future it must exercise a great influence. Vancouver Island in particular, with its fine harbors and its wonderful coal mines at Nanaimo, occupied a position which would enable it practically to command all the Northern Pacific ocean, and, coupled with the transcontinental railway service it enjoyed, which permitted either to transport goods across the continent and ship them over the Atlantic, or to send them direct across the Pacific to China and Japan, it must be regarded as almost uniquely situated from a commercial point of view.

The Bishop of New Westminster in thanking all present for their kindness in coming to bid him good-bye, reminded them that it was not only by attending conversaziones that church work in British Columbia could be kept going. He hoped that one result of the capital meeting that night would be, for at least a little time, freedom from that horrible, that consuming financial anxiety which had been a great burden since he went to New Westminster. There were no other burdens. It was a magnificent country, as they had been told, but it was hard and crushing to go on day after day not knowing whether or not the means would be forthcoming whereby the stipends of the clergy could be paid. That had been his position ever since he went out.—London Canadian Gazette, Oct. 25th.

JOURNALISTIC IGNORANCE.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—Referring to the remarks on the death of the late Earl of Lucan, K.C.B., as appearing in this morning's Colonist, and speaking from personal knowledge borne out by that afforded by other sources, peerage, army list, &c., I beg to say that the deceased officer was not "one of the Six Hundred;" that he was not appointed to the colonelcy of the 1st Life Guards "after the conclusion of the Crimean war," as therein stated. His commission in that regiment bears date February, 1865. He was, as you stated yesterday, "under a cloud" for a long time after the Crimean war, till the action taken by Lord Cardigan against the author of "Letters from Headquarters." The writer has had for several years the discharge of a military duty to write out annually the military history of the deceased general. A reference to Whittaker's Almanac or to Hart's Army List, will rectify the gross mis-statements of the Colonist. R. M.

A NOVEL SCHEME.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir:—In Saturday's issue of the Colonist appeared an elaborate detail of a proposition to be submitted at the next meeting of the Legislature, requesting grants of land to promote the immigration of certain persons to form in this province "A Christian Temperance Cooperative Commonwealth." This proposed new feature of colonization comes before us with such a high sounding title that at first mention it almost takes our breath away. That a scheme with so lofty a title, when the secretary of this proposed commonwealth, who has just arrived in our city from London, presents himself to Premier Robson will receive gracious attention from that gentleman, and be like a sweet morsel to chew over, those familiar with the leanings of the Premier towards temperance advocacy will have no doubt. But if grants of land are thus to be awarded in favor of any particular section of the community on account of their supposed excellence, other societies and institutions will be putting in their respective claims, to wit: a grant for a public library, etc., and the government eventually subject to applications, that if granted, would gobble up the whole of the public domain.

For many years, and more especially of late, we have, so to speak, been deluged with lectures, addresses, not forgetting sermons upon this subject of temperance, or in other words of total abstinence. It has been served up in every style, and every species of argument advanced in its support, until at last it has been worn so threadbare by oft repetition, that forthcoming announcements have produced that feeling of satiety so forcibly expressed by the man undaly fed upon rabbits, and who in his agony said:

"Of rabbits hot—of rabbits cold,
Of rabbits young—of rabbits old,
Of rabbits tender—of rabbits tough,
I thank the Lord, I have had enough."

A kindred feeling largely prevails with reference to those oft repeated notices of temperance advocates. But now instead of getting a temporary respite—the subject by the proposed establishment of this "Christian Temperance Cooperative Commonwealth," has broken out in a new place.

After all the addresses, lectures, sermons, etc., that have been delivered in our city upon this temperance question there seems nothing unreasonable to ask, what of the harvest from all this oratory? If the reply should be, no matter whether the harvest has been abundant or of small yield, persevere, repeat your dose, such answer is precisely the same kind of answer that Dr. Sangrado gave to Gil Blas with respect to his remedy of hot water and bleeding, and that if it failed it was because it was not sufficiently administered.

Until better informed upon this scheme of a temperance commonwealth, as at present outlined, it has the feeblest possible claims for recognition in the form of aid from the public means. If such assistance as grants of land to aid the introduction of a number of immigrants from the agricultural districts of the mother country were proposed it might have some claims for notice, but to grant such concessions to a number of men and women as approbation and reward of their habits and conduct, because not given to drinking anything stronger than tea or coffee, etc, savours too much of a sectional character for a government to deal with, and beyond their legitimate duty. Junius.

THE MANITOBA TROUBLE.

Reply to Professor Goldwin Smith by President Van Horne.

President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has written the following letter to the Toronto Mail in explanation of the company's attitude in Manitoba:

While there are probably not many of your readers who are unable to distinguish between rhyme and reason, and who believe there is something more in Mr. Goldwin Smith's writings than a mere harmony of words, and who consequently attach some importance to what he says, there may be a few, even yet, who believe in his fairness of statement and honesty of purpose, and who may have been led by his letter in the Mail of Thursday on "The Situation in Manitoba," to think that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is acting in bad faith towards that province—that it has sold something to the province which now, taking advantage of a technicality, it refuses to deliver. Permit me, therefore, to correct one or two of his statements, and to say a few words as to the company's position.

Clause 15 of the company's charter provided that for a term of twenty years the Parliament of Canada should not authorize the construction of railways to the International boundary in certain districts.

In April last, in consideration of the guaranty by the Government of the interest on certain bonds (a matter which will never cost the country a dollar) the company agreed to the termination of this restriction in the following words:—"The company agrees that all restrictions imposed upon the action of the Dominion Parliament by the terms of the said clause 15 of the said contract, as set out in the schedule to the Act 44th Vic., chap. 1, shall now cease to exist, and they are accordingly hereby removed forever."

That was all. Nothing more was ever intended or discussed. The Red River Valley railway was not referred to, nor any other railway. The province of Manitoba was not a party to the agreement and the company had nothing to do with the province in the matter. The company never agreed, directly or indirectly, or by implication, to consent to the unrestricted crossing of its lines by local railways. It was relegated by the agreement to precisely the same position in Manitoba and the Territories beyond that it occupies in Ontario. It was relegated to the same rights as are possessed by the Grand Trunk Company, neither more nor less.

Assuming that the Acts of the Manitoba Legislature relating to the Red River Valley railway are constitutional, and that the Red River Valley railway has the right to cross the tracks of the Canadian Pacific, the law provides for certain steps being taken before a railway crossing is made; and even if the company whose line is to be crossed makes no objection, these steps must, nevertheless be taken, because the public has an interest in the regulation of such crossings.

Level crossings are danger points, and it is necessary in the public interest to determine whether a crossing should be made over or under the existing line or at grade; and if at grade the responsibility for its proper maintenance must be fixed and provision must be made for the necessary signals and signal-men to prevent accidents.

Mr. Goldwin Smith pretends to think that the Canadian Pacific Company should have given timely notice to the constructors of the provincial line of its objections to the crossing, but if he reads the Winnipeg newspapers, and there is evidence that he does, he must know that before the grading of the Portage line was commenced, and when somebody suggested a possible difficulty in crossing the Canadian Pacific tracks in view of the Dominion laws, the Attorney-General of Manitoba stated in the most public manner that he would cross in spite of the Canadian Pacific railway or the laws of the Dominion. Why did not Mr. Attorney-General Martin adopt the usual course in such matters, and, months ago, when the surveys were made, give notice to the Canadian Pacific Company of his desire to cross its lines at certain points, and make the usual application to the Railway Committee of the Privy Council? Had he done so all questions could have been disposed of long before he could begin track-laying. But he wished the Dominion of Canada and the world at large to clearly understand that he was no vassal, but that he was "a law unto himself," and that he would scatter all opposition like chaff.

Now, the right of way of the Canadian Pacific Company is its own property, bought and paid for with its own money, and, subject only to certain laws in the public interest, it is just as sacred to the purposes of the company as is Mr. Goldwin Smith's hearthstone sacred to his uses. Leaving all technicalities and constitutional questions aside, is it consistent with Anglo-Saxon ideas of right that Mr. Attorney-General Martin should demand and attempt to force a crossing on the property of the Canadian Pacific Company without color of law and without any legal process whatever under the laws of the Dominion, or even under the laws of his own province? Would an individual be expected to submit to anything of the kind, or would Mr. Goldwin Smith expect any other railway company than the Canadian Pacific to submit to it?

And if the Canadian Pacific Company ventures so far as to question the right of the Red River Valley railway to cross its lines at all, or if it should even question the constitutionality of an Act of the Manitoba Legislature, why should it not? When the Canadian Pacific seeks to cross the tracks of the Grand Trunk railway, with competing lines, and the Grand Trunk Company questions its powers under its charter, or even the validity of the charter itself, does anybody denounce such opposition as dishonorable? Certainly not. The officers of the Grand Trunk railway would be guilty of neglect of duty did not they seek by every proper means to protect the property entrusted to their charge from injury.

And what manner of thing is a "technicality" the use of which is so reprehensible? Is it anything more in this instance than the plain reading of the law as opposed to the blathering of such as Mr. Goldwin Smith?

Yours, etc., W. C. VanHorne,
Canadian Pacific Railway Company,
Montreal, Nov. 3.

"Dickens Had One Trick"

remarked the Professor, in a discussion of favorite authors, "which always struck me as an oddity. I mean his habit of pinning some distinctive word or phrase on a character, which must be uttered on all occasions. Now people in real life don't iterate like parrots. At least, I know of only one person who is liable to such criticism—young Bowden, my neighbor. The picture of health, isn't he? Ruddy cheeks, sparkling eyes, ringing voice. Well, his pet phrase, which I've heard him repeat to perhaps a score of people suffering from coughs and weak lungs, is, 'Take Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.' No wonder, either, for it saved him from a consumptive's grave." $500 Reward offered by proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for an incurable case. wed-sat.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

Thanksgiving—Trip to Ottawa—Doctor's Prescriptions.

To-morrow is Thanksgiving. Thanks be to the giver of all good, it will be a holiday; that's something to be thankful for, if we have nothing else. We live and grow fat, some by the sweat of honest labor, others by brains and a little scheming; especially those government chaps that look as sleek and fine, like friend "John," who will grow fat at Ottawa. He'll be not only the "father of Vancouver," but also the father of some pretty good scheming for the sole benefit of "honest" John and nobody else. The mission is taken, of course among other things, in the cause of morality, and ill-natured people say the honorable John will have the "Professor" out to look after the bear that Gardener the photoman left behind him.

The Major had threatening letters enough, but he never said a word. They were neither in Greek, Latin, Cree, Saulteaux or Chinook; they were as bare as a pole written in thundering bad English. That gave the writer away.

If the "doctor's" letters were written in Irish they might have left their authorship on the poor Major. Now an Irish pole is called a "kippeen;" it is hard to say what a modern Greek or Spanish pole is till you've seen one. Poles, in the Major's instance, wrote letters to themselves, just for the fun of the thing. But then they fall down and get hurt.

THE TOWN MAJOR.

Not True.

A telegram from Spencer's Bridge this morning states that there is no truth in the rumored death of Mr. John Gilmore, of Nicola. He is still worth more than a great many dead men.

Thirty-Five Young Women.

Among the passengers by the Yosemite last evening were thirty-five young women from England who passed through the city en route to California. It is understood that they had been specially engaged in the old country as nurses.

Chip o' the Old Block.

This company are announced to appear at the Victoria. The N. Y. Journal says of it: "A Chip o' the Old Block" is the name of a characteristic play, mingling humor and emotion, that was given for the first time in New York last night. The pleasure derived from this representation soon made itself evident in the performance.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Thos. J. Williams, took place yesterday afternoon from his mother's residence, Cowichan Flats, and was attended by nearly every resident in the district. The services of the Church of England were performed by the Rev. Mr. Leakey, at the Quamichan church where the remains were interred. The following gentlemen officiated as pall-bearers: John Bell, David Evans, John Flett, John Evans, David Alexander, James Evans.

Wedding Bells.

The marriage of Bagster R. Seabrook and Miss Elvira A. Crosby took place last evening at the residence of A. C. Flumerfelt. Rev. J. W. Wadman tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a large party of relatives and friends of the happy couple. The groom is well known in this city, having held an important position in the Albion Iron Works. The charming bride arrived in this city a few months ago from Markham, Ontario. The high contracting parties received numerous costly wedding presents. THE TIMES extends cordial congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook.

Victoria Theatre.

The Jack-Firmin Company will appear at the Victoria to-morrow evening in an entertainment for the benefit of the B. C. Benevolent Society. Annie Firmin appeared before a Victoria audience several years ago and won the esteem of the press and public by her splendid performances. Mr. Jack is also well known in this city and is an actor with a most creditable reputation. The programme has been carefully selected and the entertainment will be well attended in consideration of the well known performers and the worthy institution for which the entertainment will be given. During the winter the Benevolent Society receives many calls for aid and their funds will be greatly augmented by the attendance of a large audience.

Change of Time Table.

A change of time table for the O. R. N. steamers will go into effect on Monday next. Under the new arrangement the company returns to the same schedule on the Victoria route as was in use last year, the boats arriving here at 9 a. m. and departing at 11 a. m. By this means the journey to Portland will be shortened several hours. The boat from Victoria will arrive in Tacoma about 9:15 in the evening and 25 minutes after the train will leave for Portland, arriving there at 5:20 next morning. The journey from Victoria to the Oregon metropolis will thus be made in a little over 18 hours. The Olympian will not lay over in this port as usual on Sunday, which will probably not please those on board of her.

St. James Church Concert.

The concert given in the Philharmonic Hall last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of St. James' Church, was well patronized. The large hall was crowded with the fashion, youth, beauty and the elite of the city, to assist in the good cause. The music was under the direction of Professor McKiernan, who wielded the baton before a Victoria audience for the first time. The entertainment opened by the singing of a number of choruses, which were creditably rendered. The song, "They all love Jack," followed, which was sung with effect by Mr. Worsfold. A spirited piano duet by Miss Arrowsmith and Mrs. Dempster succeeded, and was executed in the well-known brilliant style of these ladies. Professor McKiernan's singing in Italian, Meyerbeer's "Sei Vendicita," was followed by the "Vintage Song," double quartette, which was fairly rendered. As usual Mr. Robson, accompanied on the piano by Professor Sharpe, took the house by storm in his singing "My Queen," and as an encore "The Beautiful City." A quartette, "Home They Brought Her Warrior Dead," was well and enthusiastically rendered by the following well known amateurs, Mrs. Dempster, Miss Vidler, Mr. Worsfold and the Rev. Mr. Beanlands. Mr. Lombard delighted the audience in singing, accompanied by Miss Campbell, "The Old Wherry," "Blow Gentle Gales" by a quartette, Miss Bowden, Mrs. Jay, and Messrs. McKiernan, Jay and Leggatt, was well rendered, "Ava Maria," a solo and chorus was then given, wherein Miss Arrowsmith took the former, in which she excelled herself beyond all former exertions. The sextette, "The Tar's Farewell," by Messrs. McKiernan, Worsfold, Lombard, Dempster, Jay and Pullinger, was executed in a very artistic manner, which did credit to the well known reputation of the performers. The chorus, "Good Night," brought the musical part of the performance to a close. The evening's entertainment was brought to a finale by the laughable farce of "Box and Cox," in which Messrs. C. H. Godden, J. G. Pullinger and H. L. Webber took part, doing every credit to the piece by their splendid acting. The performers and audience joined in singing the national anthem, which brought the delightful evening's entertainment to a conclusion. The ladies of St. James Church are to be congratulated on the success which has attended their laudable efforts.

THREATS TO MURDER.

Charge Against Dr. Griffin in the Police Court this Morning.

During the whole of Tuesday night Dr. Griffin sat in a chair in the office at the city lock-up. When he entered the court this morning he was accompanied by Mrs. Griffin. The court room was crowded with spectators.

Mr. F. G. Walker appeared for the defence and asked to have the doctor sitting near him. W. J. Taylor, of Eberts & Taylor, prosecuted.

Hon. Robert Dunsmuir was the first witness called. He testified that he knew Mr. Griffin by reputation and by sight. The first time that I remember seeing him was when we brought the first train over the bridge; about the end of March of this year. I own certain coal lands in this Province.

Mr. Taylor—Does Dr. Griffin own any coal lands in the Province?

Mr. Walker—I object to that question.

His Honor—This is only a court of inquiry.

Mr. Dunsmuir—I heard Dr. Griffin bonded some coal lands. I received five threatening letters within the last three months; I recognize the letters produced; one does not belong to me; one dated August 3rd I received. It is signed with a black hand and states that I would be killed on the 28th August. The second one is dated August 5th. The third, on which the information was laid, was dated 14th August. The next is dated September 1st. The last one was received about October 11th. After receiving the first letter I showed it to a friend or two. All the letters are in Spanish and Greek; before showing it to anyone but my secretary, I looked at a Spanish dictionary and made out that I was to be killed. There was an executive meeting that day and I showed the letter to my colleagues and the Attorney-General took it to Justice Crease to transcribe. The second, third, fourth and other letters I handed to the police; I am not a detective and had no time to hunt them up. I received the letters in the ordinary course through the mails; I opened four letters; Mr. Whyte, my secretary, opened one letter. I recognized the envelope produced.

M. Lopatecki, sworn—I have seen the letters produced. On the 5th of August I saw the first one; I was called on by Mr. Dunsmuir to translate that letter. I have been six years in South America, and whilst a child I lived in Spain. I studied Greek for nine years; I am a Doctor of Philosophy of the University at Bergen; the paper produced is a copy of my interpretation; the letter says: "You have to die, by order of Black Hand."

5th Aug., 1888.

We send you another mandate. Beware. We know all what you are doing. Prepare for death.

He who acts unjust must be brought before the Judges to be punished.

10th Aug., 1888.

On the 28th September we are going to kill you. It makes no difference if you have detectives, they are fools and cannot do anything. Prepare yourself. The time comes near when you will be no more.

1st September, 1888.

Remember the 28th of this month. We have not forgotten anything. The times comes and is approaching very rapidly. Remember while reading this above, twenty eight!

11th Oct., 1888—We have not forgotten anything. We have not fulfilled our design because there are other circumstances; but the time will come, we thought that you are a better man, but we see that you are as bad as ever. If you remember the past you ought to take care of the future.

Every letter has a black hand made in ink beneath the writing.

I had a short conversation with Dr. Griffin after interpreting the first letter. One was about the 13th or 14th of October. At that time we spoke about the Orient. Dr. Griffin said he spent six years in Athens and went to Constantinople. He showed me his journal, the Social World. He brought out a bundle of letters: I received an anonymous letter before I spoke to Dr. Griffin. I can recognize the letter which is written in Spanish, it reads: "If you are going to help Mr. Dunsmuir we are going to kill you. We know all, and that there is here in Victoria a fool from San Francisco. We are very strong and have members in all parts of the world. You are a fool and can't do anything against us. We are not going to kill you alone, but also your wife if you are not going to leave Mr. Dunsmuir alone." The handwriting is similar in all the letters; when I was at Dr. Griffin's house I think I saw similar writing on a bundle of letters he took out of his pocket. I was startled when I saw the writing; that was some time about the 13th or 14th of that month.

To Mr. Walker—I am not an expert in handwriting.

Mr. Walker—I object to the evidence of the witness. He is not an expert and his evidence is not admissable.

His Honor over-ruled the objection.

Mr. Lopatecki—I generally went to Dr. Griffin's residence; met him on the street. I never had any correspondence with Dr. Griffin; once or twice he wrote for our paper; I have been here over a year.

To His Honor—The letter is written in ancient Greek. Prisoner was living at the Windsor hotel.

Benjamin F. Atherton—I have known Dr. Griffin for a year and a half; I have been closely connected with him for some time; I arrived here in June, 1888; I have officiated as private secretary for Dr. Griffin; I have seen him write a number of times; have seen writing he said was his; the languages were French and Spanish; I have written letters at his dictation sometimes. I posted them; sometimes he did. I recognize some of the Spanish in exhibit B. The first part of the address I don't know anything about. The first word I recognize. I wrote a similar word at Dr. Griffin's request. I have some experience in Spanish. I was a searcher of records in Los Angeles. As far as I understand Spanish there are some letters there that I do not understand. The first portion of the word would mean for a man to get out. I would recognize the stationery used in Dr. Griffin's office. There were blocks of paper similar to that produced. Have had several conversations with Dr. Griffin. Mr. Dunsmuir was spoken about. Dr. Griffin said a number of things from which I would imagine that the feeling was not very good between them. The doctor was speaking something about what Mr. Dunsmuir had done against him regarding the selling of his coal mines. He said Mr. Dunsmuir was a very dangerous man. He said he was a —— of —— (sensation). He (Mr. D.) had no use for niggers, Chinese or Jews. (laughter.) This conversation was in Dr. Griffin's room in the hotel. This letter to Mr. Howard, of the Occidental Hotel, I mailed for Dr. Griffin. I posted at the box corner of Pandora and Blanchard streets. This was not his usual way of addressing letters. He usually addressed them in a large scrawling hand. He usually made large letters and turned them to the right. If the man had any letters he would put them all in. (Laughter.) I did not know who Mr. Howard was. This (exhibit E) came from some papers in the office of the Social World. From what I know of Dr. Griffin it is pretty hard to tell what he is but I think he is a good man. I have seen the Black hand of these anonymous letters before that. The Social World was a paper published here and he was editor and proprietor. The handwriting was in a basket among some papers in Dr. Griffin's room in the building and I took it up stair and emptied it up in the garret, where it would not be seen. Dr. Griffin told me to empty the basket in the former office of Mr. Cohen. I cannot say whether the doctor was in the office. I recognize a great many of those from the writing, as the writing is Dr. Griffins. There may be some corrections of the printers on them. I picked them out three or four days ago indiscriminately among other papers on the floor. I did not go and get it 'til three or four days ago. It was lying there since about 25th of July. I asked what the words were for, and he said to the best of my recollection that they were for an epitaph on a tombstone or an obituary. I recognize the documents produced.

Mr. Taylor.—Your Honor, we will not be able to finish with this witness for some time; perhaps you would like to adjourn for luncheon.

His Honor.—I never take any. (Laughter.)

Court then adjourned 'till 2:30 for luncheon.

AFTER RECESS.

Mr. Artherton recalled—I recognize the document produced, and the handwriting is Dr. Griffins. I had some experience in comparing hand writing; it was my business in California; I had experience generally with handwriting and particularly with Dr. Griffin's. The Spanish portion of the letters produced is in Dr. Griffin's handwriting. I did not see him write the letter produced. Dr. Griffin could be a neat penman if he wanted to; he frequently wrote with a stub inking pen; the pen produced is the one he used.

[The witness was afterwards crossed examined by Mr. Walker, and further evidence taken, the case being still in progress at 4:30 p. m.]

POLICE COURT.

[Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.]

The case of Ira Bunster was called this morning. Mr. John Lehey, bondsman for the accused, appeared in court.

His Honor—Where is the boy?

I don't know, Your Honor. The boy is only 16 years old and was frightened.

His Honor—Perhaps he would be fined only $25. You lose $75 most likely by his non-appearance. We will adjourn the case for a week to give him a chance to return.

W. Jones pleaded guilty to being drunk and paid a fine of $5.

R. Clayton was charged by Officer Allan with indecent exposure.

Clayton said he would leave the country if allowed out.

Supt. Sheppard said the man was in the city jail three times lately.

His Honor—The captain of the Kaisow is in court; perhaps he will take him.

The captain said he had trouble enough with the few men at present on the ship and did not need any convicted prisoners.

Clayton was fined $20 or imprisonment for one month. If any ship captain wanted the prisoner he could pay the fine and take him away.

In the case of cruelty to animals, Mr. Yates said the evidence was insufficient to proceed with the charge. The case was withdrawn.

The charge against seven seamen of the bark Kaisow was then called. Mr. S. F. Mills appeared for the prosecution. Mr. Taylor, of Eberts & Taylor, defended the seamen. The case was adjourned until Friday to allow His Honor to adjudicate on a legal point raised by Mr. Taylor.

THE INSURANCE QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I notice Robert Ward's letter, wherein he declines a newspaper controversy. I am willing to meet him in any arena he may choose, to prove he made a malicious false statement intended to injure me. It is not seemly for the President of the Board of Trade to act so, and I am willing to submit this dispute to the members of the Board of Trade, and will simply produce in evidence the B. C. Fire Insurance Rate Book, 1887 edition. If the members are, as I assume them to be, honorable men, they will demand Mr. Ward to justify himself.

Mr. Ward haughtily states he has not my personal acquaintance. This is true. I did not care to seek his, and from his present actions, I have less wish than ever to do so. Your obedient servant,

E. A. HART.
